- A large swell generated by Hurricane Marie will bring the threat of large surf, rip currents, minor flooding, and beach erosion to low lying areas of coastal Orange and northern coastal San Diego counties through Thursday, 8/28/14.
- National Weather Service reports that high surf for south and southeast facing beaches of Southern California due to Tropical Storm Marie is the most significant southerly swell event in 25 years and will cause: damage to piers; local flooding of coastal property; beach erosion; very strong rip currents endangering swimmers and surfers; and threat of sneaker waves to beachgoers.

Orange County

- Per the Orange County Emergency Manager, as of 8/27/14 at 1800 hours, there is no significant damage in coastal areas. The Seal Beach Pier is closed due to flooding; however, there are no reports of damage to the pier structure. There are no requests for State assistance at this time.

Los Angeles County

- Malibu Pier: Is closed due to damaged pilings and is expected to remain closed through Friday, 8/29/2014. Today a structural engineer will be evaluating the pier to determine if and when it can be reopened. The replacement cost is estimated to be $45,000 and will take two weeks to fabricate and install.
- Malibu Surfrider: A sand berm was constructed west of the Malibu Pier to protect the lifeguard's base of operations.
- Avalon (Catalina Island): Significant wave activity has occurred causing the temporary suspension of boat service to the island. There is minor damage to the dock area. Pebbly Beach has sustained significant damage to the water front area including a boat yard and lumber yard. The heliport has been overrun with debris due to flooding. There have also been reports of some power outages in the area.
- Zuma Beach: The Fire Department's Dozer Team constructed five (5) sand berms to protect structures in the beach area including restrooms, concession stands, lifeguard headquarters, and a temporary fire station.
- City of Long Beach has reported flooding along Ocean Boulevard due to the tide appearing to breach sand berms. Pump Plant Crews are in the area to respond to any emergency that may arise.

SITUATION UPDATE:

On Sunday, August 24, 2014, at 0320 Hours PST, a magnitude 6.0 earthquake struck five miles northwest of American Canyon, CA. The earthquake nucleated at a depth of 10.8km. The shaking intensity in American Canyon and Napa from the “South Napa Earthquake” was a “VII” on the Modified Mercalli Scale, suggesting very strong shaking occurred in the Napa County area. Ground shaking was felt as far south as Salinas, east to Sacramento, and north to Ukiah. USGS estimates that aftershocks should be expected for the next week. The Cal OES Earthquake and Tsunami Duty Officer is in contact with the United States Geological Survey and California Geological Survey and will provide updates.

Aftershocks:

As of 08/28/14 at 0820 hours, there have been 103 aftershocks, four of which are M3.0 or greater (Source: USGS).

Aftershock Probability Report:

At this time (4 days after the mainshock) the probability of a strong and possibly damaging aftershock in the next 7 days is less than 10%. Most likely, the recent mainshock will be the largest in the sequence. However, there is a small chance (approximately 2%) of an earthquake equal to or larger than this mainshock in the next 7 days. In addition, approximately 1 to 10 small aftershocks are expected in the same 7-day period and may be felt locally.

WEATHER

WEATHER SYNOPSIS BY REGION:

NORTHERN CALIFORNIA AND CENTRAL COASTAL AREAS:

Eureka Weather:

An upper level ridge will remain over the West Coast through Thursday resulting in slightly above normal temperatures across the interior and dry conditions. Temperatures will begin trending downward on Friday as the ridge moves inland and is replaced by an upper level trough.

San Francisco Weather:

No significant change is expected in the weather conditions through the end of the week as an upper level ridge of high pressure remains over California. Some upper level moisture from the remnants of now rapidly weakening Hurricane Marie will likely move through late Friday to Saturday, but with no more impact than some mid and high level cloudiness. Otherwise seasonally typical weather conditions are expected to prevail through the end of the forecast period.

CENTRAL CALIFORNIA AND SOUTHERN SAN JOAQUIN VALLEY

Sacramento Weather:

High pressure will bring a slight warming trend the next couple of days, followed by a weak trough by this weekend bringing increasing high clouds and cooler temperatures.

Hanford Weather:

Dry weather and warmer temperatures can be expected across the Central California interior today through Saturday as an upper level ridge of high pressure dominates the pattern. The second half of the Labor Day weekend will trend slightly cooler as an upper level trough of low pressure settles into the Great Basin.

WEATHER

WEATHER SYNOPSIS BY REGION:

SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA:

Los Angeles Weather:

A warming trend will continue through the end of the week as high pressure continues to build. A broad trough of low pressure will develop over the western United States over the weekend, likely bringing a return of near normal temperatures and an increase in marine layer cloud coverage for early next week.

Extreme Southwestern California Including Orange, San Diego, Western Riverside and Southwestern San Bernardino Counties:

A large south swell generated by Hurricane Marie will bring large, dangerous surf and strong rip currents to Orange County and northern San Diego County through Thursday. High pressure over California will bring warming to slightly above average through Friday then slowly cooler into early next week as a trough of low pressure moves inland to the north bringing stronger onshore flow and slight deepening of the marine layer. Night and morning low clouds and fog will be exceedingly patchy the next few nights with somewhat greater coverage for the weekend into early next week.

Southeast California Weather:

A drier and warmer stretch of weather will take over lasting at least through the weekend. High temperatures will climb back to near normal by Thursday peaking on Friday and Saturday with some lower desert spots approaching 110 degrees across southeast California.

WEEK AHEAD WEATHER

Thursday-Friday

- High surf for south and southeast facing beaches of Southern California due to Hurricane Marie will cause:
  - damage to piers;
  - local flooding of coastal property;
  - beach erosion;
  - very strong rip currents endangering swimmers and surfers; and
  - threat of sneaker waves to beachgoers.

Saturday-Wednesday

- No significant hazards expected.

Cal EOC Incident – 2014 Drought

- The SOC is activated at Level 2 in support of the Drought State of Emergency from 0800-1700 hours daily.
- The Inland REOC is activated at Level 2 from 0800-1700 Monday through Friday or as needed.
- The Southern REOC is activated at Level 1.
- The Santa Barbara County OA EOC is activated at Level 2 to be handled by the duty officer for the purpose of monitoring activities and gaining situational awareness. The operational period is Monday – Friday, 0800-1700 hours.

Situational Summary

On January 17, 2014 Governor Edmund G. Brown proclaimed a State of Emergency and directed state officials to take all necessary actions to prepare for drought conditions. The State Operation Center (SOC) is activated to implement objectives in support of the Governor's priorities. The lack of winter rain and snowfall has resulted in extremely dry conditions in many parts of the State. Reservoir levels are down significantly from where they should be on average for this time of year. If conditions continue severe impacts to municipal water supplies, agriculture (plants and livestock) and firefighting capabilities are likely in store for the State over the next few months. Negative economic impacts will also result.

The drought could result in severe impacts to the municipal water supplies, wells, agriculture (plants and livestock) and firefighting capabilities for several months. The SOC continues to be activated to monitor the situation statewide, and support regional and local operational areas.

- Current Reservoir Levels continue to decline. Levels as of August 21st: Don Pedro 41%; Exchequer 17%; Folsom Lake 40%; Lake Oroville 32%; Millerton Lake 46%; New Melones 24%; Pine Flat 11%; San Luis 19%; Lake Shasta 31%; Trinity Lake 30%; Pyramid Lake 94%; and Castaic Lake 44%.

- Emergency Drinking Water Procurement and Distribution Planning Guidance (rev. May 2014)

Significant changes have occurred to the structure of California's state government organization. Rapid advances in systems, science, and technology have helped emergency managers improve coordination, forecasting, and situational awareness. Because of these changes, the Multi-Agency Emergency Response Procedures for Potable Water Procurement & Distribution document has been replaced by the Emergency Drinking Water Procurement and Distribution Planning Guidance. The intent of this guidance document is to clarify the roles and responsibilities of the stakeholders involved in locating, procuring, and delivery of emergency drinking water to populations in California. Consequently creating a framework for agencies and organizations to work together to enhance preparedness.

- State Board Mandatory Conservation Regulations Now in Effect: The state's first-ever emergency regulations mandating urban water conservation became effective will be in effect until April 25, 2015.

- The 2014 Governor Drought Task Force continues to meet regularly to take actions that conserve water and coordinate state response to the drought.

- Cal OES continues to gather drought-related costs from state agencies and local governments.
